Development of ancient Nalanda University in Bihar

1512. MS. PRAMILA BOHIDAR:
SHRI B. J. PANDA:

Will the Minister of CULTURE be pleased to state:

(a) whether ASI proposes to develop ancient Nalanda University in Bihar

(b) if so, the details thereof;

(c) whether Government are aware that there are similar ancient heritage centres in Orissa which are also required to be developed to promote tourism in the State; and

(d) if so, what is the action plan of the Centre to develop such sites in the States?

THE MINISTER OF CULTURE (SHRIMATI AMBIKA SONI): (a) and (b) No, Sir. There is no proposal in Archaeological Survey of India to develop ancient Nalanda as a University. The excavated remains at Nalanda are protected as monument/site of national importance by Archaeological Survey of India. Regular conservation and preservation measures are undertaken for its proper maintenance and upkeep. Tourist amenities like toilet blocks, drinking water facilities, signages, publications counters, pathways, approach road etc. have also been provided at the site.

(c) and (d) The excavated sites at Lalitagiri, Udayagiri, Ratnagiri and Langudi Hill are protected as of national importance. These sites are in good state of preservation and conservation.

The Ministry of Tourism, Government of India had sanctioned an amount of Rs. 740.67 lakhs in 2004-05 for the development of Buddhist Circuit in Orissa for providing basic facilities at Langudi and other Buddhist places. The Department of Culture, Government of Orissa has also taken up an integrated action plan for this purpose.
